More Information

Jointly organised by the Fundación Juan March, Madrid, and the Museo Picasso Málaga, this exhibition aims to present a panorama of visual representations of the history of art. At the exhibition's centre, Alfred H.Barr's diagram for the Cubism and Abstract Art catalogue (MoMA, 1936) will be unfolded into three dimensional space, with works placed according to his design, to reevaluate the credibility of his genealogy of abstract art by considering its visual plausibility. Representations of the history of art by artists, essayists, poets and historians will also be considered.
